CORNWALL, Aug. 1.—The steamer Passport of the Montreal and Toronto line, struck the pier at the lower entrance to the canal at 10:30 last evening. She is sinking in 20 feet of water. The passengers and baggage have been taken off.

TORONTO, Aug 1.—Thomas Caron the commercial traveller who attempted suicide last week by shooting himself in the head, died at the hospital this morning after terrible suffering. He is said to be a nephew of Sir Adolphe Caron. He refused to assign any reason for the rash act.

The creditors of the wholesale dry goods firm of Jennings & Hamilton have resolved upon an assignment of the estate. The liabilities are $110,000, which include direct and indirect. Of the direct liabilities the Bank of Commerce is in for $10,000, in addition to the $60,000 worth of customers paper which the bank holds as collateral for unsecured creditors. The assets are placed nominally at $34,000.

The Globe publishes a long communication from Hon. Wm. MacDougall, regarding the settlement of the Hudson Bay question, and editorially says: "These facts are published for the first time and form a most important contribution to Canadian history. They show that had it not been for the personal influence of Gladstone, Canada would not have been allowed to acquire the Northwest Territory except on terms much less favorable than those actually obtained. If it were possible Gladstone would be held in still greater esteem in Canada as the effect of this revelation than he now is."

HALIFAX, Aug 2.—A special meeting of shareholders of the Pictou bank today voted to close up the bank. It started in 1875 with a capital of $250,000, and a few years' great prosperity was succeeded by a series of extraordinary and disastrous mismanagement, the result being that the bank has lost some $250,000. The story of the disasters of this bank is not surpassed by any banking record either in Canada or the United States. The business of the Pictou bank will be swallowed up by the Bank of Nova Scotia.

MONTREAL, Aug 2.—A cunning fraud on the part of Prefontaine's supporters at St. Lambert, was discovered just before the close of the poll, and steps were immediately taken to have the election voided and the guilty persons brought to justice.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP," and take no other kind. ap9-eod-dw

The Perfection

Of the age in the medical line is the liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal. It is agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach, harmless in its nature, painless yet prompt and thorough in its action. For sale by Langley & Co., Victoria 11dw

On the Rise.

"Leaves have their time to fall," says the poet, but Wild Strawberry leaves are on the rise just now, being utilized in such enormous quantities in making Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—the infallible remedy for Cholera Morbus, Diarrhœa, and other summer complaints. tu-th-sat-dw

SPORT IN THE ROCKIES.

A LIVELY CHASE AFTER A MOUNTAIN GOAT—GRAND SPORT.

Mr. W. A. Baillie-Grohmann, who is at present in Victoria, contributes the following, to Land and Water: There are two ways of hunting goats—stalking (or still hunting, as it is called out West) and having dogs to "tree," i. e., corner them on ledges or craegs, and give the sportsman time to to get up to the beast. The former of course, is the only manner worth going in for, though sometimes, as the ground is always of the roughest, and the narrow ledges to which these amazingly sure-footed beasts ordinarily take refuge, are not the easiest to crawl along, even following the hounds is sufficiently arduous to please the ardent climber. Where I found goat the first time, i. e., the Bitterroot Mountains, they had probably never been hunted before, for the few Indians that remained in that locality after the battle of Big Holo River, in the Nez Peerces war of 1878, never penetrated to these uplands. They had all the deer and Wapiti they wanted nearer home, and white men, we had good reason to know, had never got up these two gulches, closed in by vast walls of rock, by which we reached the last available camping place, at an altitude of not more than some 9,000 feet; for even our sagacious old pack-horses, wonders, as they are for sure-footedness and much developed climbing faculties, in consequence of long practice, could get no further, and the hunting proper had, of course, to be done on foot, leaving camp before "sun rise," and getting back after dark, done to a turn by fourteen hours of as as ordinary muscles can stand. First, these almost perpendicular walls had to be scaled to gain the necessary height; for goat, like mountain sheep, should be approached from above, if, indeed, there is an above, which is often conspicuous by its absence, for goats have a singular fancy for the very top of sharp ridges, where the breathless sportsman, sadly bumped by his arduous climb, can see them, while he himself is but half-way up the slope, clearly silhouetted against the sky as they pick their steps with grave steadiness along the knifeback-like ridge, either unconscious of the yet distant foe or calmly watching him, for I doubt if there is an animal in existence that develops more impertinent curiosity than the mountain antelope does in those regions where it has not been hunted before. What is more, I have never seen one of these wily beasts hurry itself in the very least. Whether express bullets are flying around them, fired at such long ranges as four or five hundred yards, for it is not always in the barren, rocky wastes they inhabit, or whether they be enjoying security in a more than ordinary rugged fastness, they invariably show the same steady "no-good-to hurry-myself" calmness of demeanor. One or two experiences of mine in this respect border on the incredible, perhaps the most remarkable being the conduct of a ram, the best one, too, I got, who appeared to treat me much in the same way as the old fable tells us the hare treated the tortoise. Eleven times, in the course of a race that lasted certainly a couple of hours, did this tantalisingly cheeky beast allow me to take as deliberate aim at him as my pumped condition permitted, and eleven times did my 500 express bullet whiz past him as he squatted "taking a rest" much amazed, no doubt, by the frantic scrambles of his breathless pursuer who was letting off fire works. And in the end I only got him with my last cartridge

BY MEANS OF A LITTLE RUSE,

i. e., rigging up a stone on the top of a ridge with my coat and hat, while I myself, by taking a detour, managed to get within a couple of hundred yards of the beguiled victim, who was calmly staring upwards at my personification.

Where goats are plentiful, such as in upper Kootenay Mountains, in British Columbia, where I have known an Indian kill twelve in a few hours with an old Hudson Bay flintlock "fire squirt," the chase is rather easier when once they have reached their ground, often a hard job on account of the steepness of the slopes and density of brush which the sportsman has to penetrate before he can reach the barren wilds above timber line.

The weight of this animal differs very considerably. The heaviest ram I killed must have scaled about 180 lbs.: but an animal caught by means of lassoes and dogs some years before my first visit to Montana, near Deerlodge City, in that Territory, is said to have scaled the enormous weight of 480 pounds. Entertaining very grave doubts respecting the truth of this assertion, I took a good deal of pains to collect all the evidence obtainable from the eye witnesses, but found a singular unanimity among the twelve or fifteen persons concerning the correctness of this weight. If this hoary old monster really was of the size indicated by the above figures, which would make it about the size of a yearling buffalo, he was certainly an exceptionally large one, for the heaviest goat concerning which I have been able to gather reliable information—i. e., an old ram, killed by an English friend of mine, a sportsman of repute—weighed according to his estimate, about 300 lbs.—Globe.

MARRIED A PRIEST.

A Sensation in the City of Churches.

NEW YORK, July 27.—There is a sensation in Brooklyn over the marriage of the Rev. William J. Sherman, a priest of the Roman Catholic Church, to Miss Tillie McCoy. Young Sherman is 27 years of age, and the son of a wealthy builder in Brooklyn. Some years ago he went courting Miss McCoy, but she declined to marry him then because she was too young to marry, and because his ways were a trifle too wild. He then studied for the priesthood and was ordained several year ago, and became assistant pastor of the church of the visitation in Red Hook, South Brooklyn. Then he resumed his visits to the house of his former sweetheart and she soon discovered that he was willing to break his holy vows for her sake. She remonstrated at first but his pleadings won her, and they began to prepare for the marriage. On June the 14th they went to the residence of the Rev. F. L. J. Schneider, a Protestant clergyman, and were married.

After the ceremony she returned to her own home and the groom to the priest's residence. The secret leaked out, and the priest's mother asked him if it were true, but he declared that it was not. Sherman took his wife away from Brooklyn and brought her to this city, where they stopped at the Grand Union Hotel. Meanwhile the priest continued to perform his earthly duties. The pastor of the church asked him if he had violated his vows. He intimated that he had been indiscreet, but declared with tears that he was not married. Rumors of the marriage grew thicker, however, and last Friday the priest's mother paid a visit to the home of the McCoys. She asked Mrs. McCoy if her daughter and the priest were married. She was told they were, and if she needed further evidence she could find husband and wife together upstairs. Mrs. Sherman upstairs and found the couple in a room together. She is reported to have boxed her son's ears and then to have made the young bride kneel and swear that she was not the wife of Fr. Sherman. The Catholic Church will not recognize the marriage, and Fr. Sherman will be excommunicated.

A Fortunate Escape.

Mrs. Cyrus Kilborne, Beamsville, Ont., had what was supposed to be a cancer on her nose. She was about to submit to a cancer doctor's treatment, when she concluded to try Burdock Blood Bitters, internally and externally, a few bottles of which entirely cured her. tu-th-sat-dw

Off Work.

"I was off work for two years suffering from kidney disease, and could get no relief, until advised by a friend to try B.B.B. I was cured by two bottles, and consider it a miraculous cure." The above is the substance of a communication from Wm. Tier, of St. Mary's, Ont. tu-th-sat-dw

A Wise Precaution.

During the summer and fall people are liable to sudden attacks of bowel complaints, and with no prompt remedy or medical aid at hand, life may be in danger. Those whose experience has given them wisdom, always keep Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry at hand for prompt relief, and a physician is seldom required. tu-th-sat-dw

CHINESE RESTRICTION.

The Knights of Labor, in an address presented to Sir John Macdonald yesterday, spoke of the provisions of the Chinese restriction as being evaded in this province because of the unwillingness of those whose duty it is to enforce them. We must say that we think this statement could not be maintained, and that any want of effect in the result will come rather from the inefficacy of the measure itself than from any lack of proper observance on the part of those deputed to see that its provisions are carried out. That the result of Chinese immigration is malific can hardly now be reasonably questioned—the experience of British Columbia being but a repetition of that of California and the Australian colonies. In the eastern states the reasons for the complaint of California were not credited or, rather, not properly appreciated. In Eastern Canada the cry of British Columbia against Chinese was imputed to laziness, jealousy, and a host of similar incentives by those who not seeing the evils of this class of immigration spoke without knowing or perhaps caring, and spoke with all the positivism that marks irresponsible utterances. The objection to this race of people which first found voice here many years ago would have borne fruit far earlier had it not been that there was an element in British Columbia which not directly experiencing the evil results of Chinese labor had no sympathy with those who did, and thus prevented unity of action and delayed the advent of what would, had it came before the completion of the C. P. R., have undoubtedly served as a spur to increased immigration of white settlers. The Chinese are too conservative a race to desire to adopt the manners and customs of a foreign race, and keep aloof from these even while living in their midst. If, as the Knights assert, the Chinese Restriction act fails to meet the end for which it is presumed to have been enacted, the true remedy lies in the suggestion made farther on in their address that in all government works and public works of any kind, it be a special stipulation that no Chinese be employed. If this were done the inducements offered to these people would cease, and with such would cease their immigration, for they came for employment—to make money and go home again; and the thought of making homes for themselves, and settling permanently never enters their heads. The Canadian Pacific is now finished, and will quickly bring a surplus of white labor for any kind of work, no matter of what magnitude, so that the excuse that white labor is scarce cannot be advanced as it has been before when such labor has been easily obtainable. The true panacea is the exclusion of Chinese from employment on all public works, and if this is consistently done Chinese immigration to British Columbia will be practically prohibited.

RIEL'S GHOST.

Louis Riel is dead and buried these many months. He suffered death at the hands of the common hangman. His crime was treason to the government of the Dominion. The house of commons affirmed the justice of his punishment in the largest majority ever given by that body. Among those who voted with the majority was the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, former liberal leader, and many reformers. Mr. Blake, unfortunately for his party, voted for the minority—he was, in fact, the mover of the resolution to condemn the execution. The recent election at Chambly is regarded as a test of public sentiment in the French province on the Riel matter. It will be fortunate for the reformers if it has not committed their party to the policy of race and revenge as ennusiated by the rouges of Quebec. When Hon. Mr. Chapleau was speaking at Chambly a hangman's noose was shaken in his face and he was referred to as "that hangman Chapleau." Two portrait's of Riel labeled "Martyr," were displayed on either side of the secretary of state and his position was rendered as uncomfortable as the fanatical portion of his audience could make it. The majority for the rouge candidate was 56. At the general election four years ago the majority for Mr. Benoit, conservative, was 500. It is clear that although Riel was hanged his ghost has not been laid. His shade stalks abroad and is destined to occupy every platform in the Dominion at the next general election. In Quebec the reformers, by pushing Riel's ghost to the front, will surely gain. But will they not lose proportionately in the English-speaking provinces. If the reform party is committed by the resolution of Mr. Blake and the election at Chambly to the "revenge" policy, the result in Ontario cannot be doubtful. The question is one that should have been interred with Riel's bones, but it has returned to vex and harrow all parties and they may well exclaim with Hamlet:

"But tell
Why thy canonized bones, hearsed in death,
Have burst their cerements? Why the sepulchre
Wherein we saw thee quietly inurned,
Hath op'd his ponderous and marble jaws,
To cast thee up again?"

THE LIBERAL DISSENTIENTS.

Lord Hartington and his followers have spoken. It seems that Lord Salisbury, when summoned to form a cabinet, advised the Queen to send for Lord Hartington, which she readily consented to do, but Lord Hartington refused to become the premier of a coalition government, dependent almost altogether upon tory support. Lord Salisbury was then forced to rely upon Lord Hartington's promise of generous support. It seems that not one of the dissentient liberals will accept office under Lord Salisbury; even Mr. Goschen, who has no party and no seat in the house, refuses to become a cabinet minister in a tory government. The conduct of the dissentient liberals throughout the whole controversy has been of the highest character. They have risked the forfeiture of their lieutenancies in the liberal party, and have refused to compensate themselves by accepting the highest rank in the tory party; they have adhered strictly to their principles, swerving neither to the right nor to the left for friends or for foes. That they have been fairly supported at the polls shows that the English people still admire independence of character and backbone. Lord Salisbury has announced his intention of dealing with the Irish question by introducing to parliament a bill for the extension of local self-government. The premier also announced that he would apply to Parliament for "additional powers" to rigorously enforce the law in Ireland. But that was a secret and it would be unwise to discuss it, Lord Salisbury is reported to have said, until after the estimates had been passed. The attitude of the unionists and liberals in the house shows that they regard their differences as reconcilable and before many months they may be found again in the same fold, and in opposition to the conservative government.

Our Public Schools.

TO THE EDITOR:—As chairman of the school board can you inform me why the High school was closed to-day? One of the pupils informed me that the principal had told the children that he intended taking a holiday for two days and advised them to do so also. I could scarcely believe this, and to-day enquired of the secretary of the trustees, who expressed himself astonished at the school being closed, and said that if so it was certainly without the authority of the board. Surely there must be a screw loose somewhere. Holidays indeed! Why, the schools have only just opened after a recess of six weeks; and if the teachers are tired out already they must be made of poor material. Everybody else recovered sufficiently from the effects of the regatta to be able to attend to business to day, and it does not look well for teachers of morality to set so bad an example. Please state whether the schools are to open on Monday and oblige

HEROIC DEED.

A Montana Woman Rescues Three Persons From Drowning and Perishes Attempting to Save the Fourth.

(Butte special to Helena Independent, July 31)

A letter from Judge Armstrong of the Upper Sun river, gives the particulars of the drowning of Miss Jane McArthur, formerly of this city, in a heroic effort to save the lives of others. The letter is undated, but it is presumed the catastrophe took place last Wednesday. Miss McArthur a year or two ago went into the cattle business in the section named, and at the time of the accident was encamped on the banks of the Sun river with her old mother and two hired men. The men were gone fishing down the river. Judge Armstrong, with his wife and daughter of 15, a son of 12 and his spinster sister, attempted to ford the river with a four-horse team. Coming down the bank the horses became unmanageable and ran into deep water, upsetting the wagon and spilling the family into the rapid current. Armstrong couldn't swim and held to the lines, while the other four were left struggling in the river. Miss McArthur, who was an excellent swimmer, saw the accident and ran to their assistance, throwing off her heavier clothing by the time of reaching the bank. She plunged into the water, seized the boy and swam ashore with him, then went back and brought the girl ashore, and next Mrs. Armstrong. Though very much exhausted, she swam out again to rescue the sister, who was a woman about fifty pounds heavier than herself. The woman was already in a drowning struggle, and seized her rescuer, resulting at length in both sinking and losing their lives. The bodies were recovered a few hours after. Miss McArthur was a typical Montana girl, and had made a small fortune by her own efforts. She had a herd of 100 cattle, twenty-five horses, two four-horse teams and $3000 in money at the Sun river ranch; also a valuable ranch near Butte. Her body was sent to Bozeman, to be buried beside her sister.

THE COLINDERIES.

A "Doubtful Character" at a Garden Party.

The following little incident is going the rounds of the Canadian section. There seems no doubt as to its accuracy, though I am far from saying that the individual in question is representative of any large section of Canadian exhibitors now in London. Scene—Kensington palace, garden party to Canadian exhibitors—servant (in livery) to the Marquis of Lorne: "If you please, my lord, there's a doubtful character in the grounds." "A what?" asked the marquis. "A doubtful character, my lord." "Bring him to me." An interval elapses, and presently James appears, leading one of the marquis' guests, a Canadian exhibitor, dressed in a low felt hat of some years' standing, a tweed suit which once was grey and altogether presenting a most undesirable appearance for the garden party of a royal palace. "Hem," coughed the marquis, "are you a Canadian exhibitor," with a strong accent on the "you." "I am, my lord." "I trust you are quite well, good day," returned the marquis, leaving the worthy Canadian exhibitor, the "doubtful character," in amazement at the little episode, the meaning of which he was at a loss to understand.

HALIFAX.

Fielding's Treason.

HALIFAX, July 30.—Premier Fielding in an interview states that the direct cause of the repeal movement was the refusal of the Dominion government to grant such financial concessions as, owing to their straitened circumstances, the Nova Scotia legislature had memorialized for. Nova Scotia, he says, was forced into the union against the will of the people, which has always been kept in mind, and been the cause of their hostility to confederation, which cannot disappear for many years. He is satisfied the people of Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick would respond as heartily to a repeal cry as did the Nova Scotians. To bring about the withdrawal of the province from the Union, and establish a maritime union, was the policy of the present government of Nova Scotia. There was no question of annexation to the United States in these repeal movements. That was a mere trick of the enemy, but it was useless to deny that annexation was now the common subject of discussion among Nova Scotians.

THE NEW TELEGRAPH ARRANGEMENT.

The Terms of the Canada Agreement.

The Future of the Mackay Company.

The Western Union has long enjoyed the exclusive control of the telegraph lines in Canada, and of all communication between the United States and the Dominion. It has also been the only line having complete connection between the east and the Pacific coast. Both these exclusive privileges are about to vanish through the extension of the service of the Commercial Cable company and its feeder the Postal Telegraph Cable company. These two companies have just concluded contracts with the Canadian Pacific company which will result in important extensions of telegraphic facilities and open to competition a vast territory which has heretofore been under the control of a monopoly.

THE POSTAL TO THE FORE.

The postal telegraph property, which was constructed in part by the issue of mortgage bonds, has during the past year been operated by Messrs. A. B. Chandler and Henry Rosener as receiver. The company has been recognized under the name of the Postal Telegraph Cable company at the moderate capitalization of $5,000,000 and without bonds, debts, litigation, or embarassment of any kind. Mr. Chandler is president of the new company. Its lines and connections reach most of the principal cities of the Missouri river. Its wires are all of copper or of compound steel and copper. The company has done much of the commercial business between the exchanges of New York and Chicago, and has earned the good opinion of business men for rapidity and correctness. The property of the United Lines company has been operated in connection with the Postal by President Chandler for nearly a year past, and the two together do a great deal of the land service of the Commercial Cable company.

The newly opened Canadian Pacific Railway company has just completed a substantial telegraph line of several No. 6 gauge wires across the continent, through British territory, extending from Quebec and Montreal to British Columbia, a distance of 3,200 miles. An alliance, in the shape of a contract for the exclusive exchange of traffic, has just been concluded between the Canadian Pacific company on the one side and the Postal Telegraph Cable company, the Commercial Cable company and a number of gentlemen on the Pacific coast, all of them interested in all of the three companies named. The result of this contract will be that by Christmas day next there will be a competing line of telegraph open between New York and the principal Canadian cities and between New York and San Francisco and all important points on the Pacific coast. Each company, under the contract, is to work its own line, but the whole system will be unified and practically operated as one. The Canadian Pacific has secured the services of Charles R. Hosmer as general manager. He is said to be one of the ablest telegraph managers in Canada.

COMPLETING THE CHAIN.

To complete the system the Postal Telegraph Cable company has begun the construction of a line from New York to the Canadian border, near Morristown, N. Y. The Canadian Pacific is building an extension to meet it from Montreal. This will be completed September 1st, and will give a direct connection between New York and the principal cities of Canada. The Canadian Pacific lines are also to be extended at once from Montreal to St. John, Halifax, and other points in the British maritime provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Another important connection is to be built on September 1st from the terminus of the postal lines in Chicago to St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, to connect with the Canadian Pacific at St. Vincent a little later.

Work will be begun immediately to extend the Canadian Pacific lines to the terminus of the Canadian Pacific railway in British Columbia to Portland, Or., San Francisco and Sacramento. This will put the Commercial Cable company in direct connection with all points in the Dominion of Canada and with the Pacific coast. Interested parties have also in contemplation the scheme of laying an ocean cable from the Pacific coast to China.

A SERIOUS BLOW TO WESTERN UNION.

This new telegraphic extension will be a serious blow to the Western Union, for the reason that that company has a long lease of the Great Northwestern Telegraph company of Canada, under which the Western Union guarantees 8 per cent. on a larger issue of stock and 6 per cent. on another issue. The Northwestern is a company formed like the Manhattan Elevated railway company—to operate the Montreal and the Dominion companies, in the first of which the Western Union is responsible for 8 per cent. dividends and on the latter 6 per cent. Of course, the Western Union, in binding itself to pay such high rates, supposed that it had an unassailable monopoly of telegraphic communication in Canada. President Chandler, of the Postal company, said yesterday, in answer to a Herald's reporter's questions, that it was almost certain that the Western Union would have to meet a deficit now the monopoly is broken. The Northwestern company could earn 8 per cent. while it had the exclusive control of their business, but with a competing company able to serve the public just as well and just as cheaply, the Northwestern would not be able to earn its very high fixed charges.

As to the service between New York and the Pacific coast, which has also been monopolized by Western Union ever since the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph company was merged in the Western Union in 1877, that will also be effectually broken down by the new arrangement, Mr. Chandler said, because over the Canadian Pacific wires messages can be sent just as quickly, if not more rapidly, than over the Western Union connections. —New York Herald.

A Cornish Tragedy.

LONDON, July 28.—At Penzance today a man named Hawke shot and killed his sister, her husband, another woman and himself, a fifth person who was present narrowly escaping. Hawke was from Australia and was a man of temperate habits and sociable disposition. No motive can be assigned for the crime. He was chatting pleasantly with his relatives when he suddenly drew a revolver and fired with the above result.

RUSSIA DOES NOT WANT INDIA.

But is Keeping Her Weather Eye on Constantinople.

LONDON, July 28.—The Daily News publishes an important interview bearing upon political events in England with the Russian Prince Doudakoff Korsakoff, the governor of the Caucasus. The prince says that Russia does not want British India and will take no further steps in the direction of the British territory. What Russia wants is Constantinople. Keeping within reach of India may eventually make things easier all around. Despatches from the European capitals show that a flutter has been caused by the prospect of Lord Randolph Churchill being English foreign secretary. But the appointment is not made, and it is more probable that Salisbury will offer the alternative of the leadership of the house on returning to Norway. Hartington's promise to Salisbury makes him master of the composition of the ministry, and he may be expected to use his power against Churchill.

Tilden's Last Hours.

Dr. Simmons, his physician, who lives next to Greystone, says that Tilden had been in unusually good health during the last four months. He had taken great pleasure in his home, his greenhouses, his choice live stock and his yacht Viking, and in reading and entertaining his friends. He was attacked by nausea and diarrhœa on Saturday afternoon, but this yielded to mild treatment so that on Monday he was able to take a ride. He continued in his usual health until Tuesday afternoon, when the nausea and diarrhœa returned. He, however, passed some time in his library in the evening, as was his custom.

On being assisted to his bedroom by Dr. Simmons, the first sign of aproaching failure of the heart was noticed by his difficult breathing while ascending the stairs. He was put to bed and carefully watched and nourished through the night, but his strength gradually failed. At about eight o'clock this morning, Dr. Samuel Swift was summoned by Dr. Simmons for consultation. On Dr. Swift's arrival he found Mr. Tilden seated in his easy chair in which he had been placed to relieve his breathing. He had lost the power of speech about an hour before and was evidently nearing the end. He quietly passed away within fifteen minutes after Dr. Swift's arrival.

An Awful Mistake.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 29.—Mrs. John Prill, of South twenty-eighth street, made a mistake which may cost her her eyesight and disfigure her face for life. She became greatly frightened when the terrible storm which passed over this section broke in its fury, and ran up to her bed chamber for a vase of holy water with which to sprinkle herself, in the hope that in that way she might ward off impending danger. In the excitement of the moment and the semi-darkness of the room, she seized a bottle filled with sulphuric acid. She dashed a considerable quantity of it in her face and over her head. The first intimation she had of her mistake was the terrible pain. The neighbors hearing her cries, ran in. They found her lying on the floor almost crazed with pain. Great red blotches were already appearing on her face and neck. It was some time before the situation was understood, but when it was, everything possible was done to stop the work of the acid. She will, in all probability, lose her eyesight, and her face may be disfigured. The acid had eaten into the flesh before its course was stayed.

To Cognac Drinkers.

From the St. James' Gazette. There is surely much doubt that "cognac" is not what it professes to be. The quantity of brandy made from the genuine juice of the grape in France in 1875 was, in round numbers, 11,000,000 gallons. It had fallen to a trifle over half a million gallons in 1885. Yet "cognac" is as plentiful as ever, the progress of falsification having more than kept pace with the ravages of the phylloxera The coarsest beet root or potato spirit can, it seems, be converted into what passes, or at least is sold, for French brandy by the addition of a small quantity of a substance known as the "essential oil of wine lees." This stuff is not even what claims to be, being in fact a product formed from certain fatty substances, among which cocoa, butter and castor oil are mentioned, after being treated with nitric acid, a certain amount of methylic and other alcohols being added to impart the requisite vinous flavor to the compound. This suffices to give the spirit its "bouquet." It is colored with caramel, and nothing more remains to be done but to bottle it and label it "Vieux Cognac."

SENATORIAL ELECTION.

A. P. WILLIAMS OF SAN FRANCISCO CHOSEN BY THE CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 3—Both houses of the legislature met at 1 o'clock this morning and immediately proceeded to elect a United States senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator John F. Miller, which vacancy since Miller's death has been filled by George Hearst, appointed by Gov. Stoneman. A. P. Williams, chairman of the republican state committee, who was nominated by the republican caucus a few hours before, was nominated and received a majority of the votes of both houses. The vote on joint-ballot stood: Williams 70, Hearst 24.

YESTERDAY'S DISPATCHES.

Trying to Heal the Liberal Breach.

Friendly Attitude of the Leaders.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—A meeting of the liberal unionists was held in Devonshire house, the residence of Lord Hartington, to-day. Hartington presided, and among those present were Joseph Chamberlain, James Ryland, Caine, Heags and Jessie Collings Harcington, in a long speech upon the coming parliamentary work, proposed that all the attitude of hostility towards the adherents of the late government be abandoned, and that the liberal sections should co-operate in the endeavor to procure the enactment of useful legislation, and oppose unitedly all proposals looking to the separation of the empire. He held that the consolidation of the party was only a matter of time. [Cheers.] Towards that end the unionists should at once identify themselves with the rest of the liberals by taking their seats in the commons among them. Mr. Joseph Chamberlain followed, and said he would willingly accept the leadership if Hartington's resolution was unanimously adopted that the radicals and unionists should work together under leaders who are privy councillors, and should claim seats in the commons on an equality with Gladstonian leaders.

Parliament reassembled this afternoon. Mr. Gladstone, when he went into the commons, took his seat on the front opposition bench, directly opposite his adversary, unnoticed. Chamberlain soon afterwards entered and sat down on the same bench, which was occupied also by Hartington and John Morley, Gladstone's chief secretary for Ireland, Hartington sitting between Morley and Chamberlain. The ex premier rose and went over to the radical dissentient leader and shook hands with him cordially and held a long conversation with him and Hartington.

Personal.

Governor Dewdney writes to a friend here that his health is nearly re-established and that he will visit Victoria in September.

Sir Donald Smith is forbidden by his medical advisers to return to Canada at present. It is considered that he needs some rest and he has, therefore, postponed his departure

At the Driard are Mr. C. P. Frame, wife, daughter, and Miss Bryant, who are on the way to Alaska. Mr. Frame, who is a prominent New Yorker, visits the coast with his family to test for himself the beauties of the scenery and the delights of the climate.

Mr. W. M. Halpenny, government guide, will go to Alberni on Sunday morning in the event of the steamer Woodside leaving at that time, and escorts several parties of capitalists, who intend locating there.

Mrs. Izatt, (daughter of Mr. Justice Gray) arrived from England on Tuesday, and is a guest at her father's residence.

Senator Cochrane has been injured at Kamloops by a fall from a waggon, and will in consequence be confined to his bed for some days.

Mr. B. H. Bristowe, secretary of the U. S. treasury during the late President Grant's administration, and Mrs. Bristowe, together with Mr. and Mrs. John King, all of New York, are at the Driard.

Major Downie, of Granite city, has arrived down.

Sir George Stephen, Bart., and party went east by yesterday's steamer to the mainland, having enjoyed to the full their brief stay in Victoria.

Mr. S. P. Tuck, C. E., has arrived from the mainland.

Henry Croft, Esq., M. P. P., and Mrs. Croft, of Chemainus, are in the city.

"Canada."

Mr. George Johnson, who accompanied the Sir John Macdonald's party to Victoria, is the author of a handbook of Canada, for the purposes of the Colonial and Indian exhibition. The handbook includes a map of the Dominion and a chart of the world, showing the new route from China to Japan via the Pacific ocean and the Canadian Pacific railway to Liverpool. The work embraces descriptive articles on the various provinces, and statistics of their resources, shipping, manufactures, population, etc. Although prepared on short notice "Canada" is a valuable addition to the literature of the Dominion and will be a welcome addition to the libraries of all who feel an interest in the progress of the young nation.

Church Notices.

Rev. John Reid, Sr., and Rev. Mr. Gamble, former pastors of the First Presbyterian church in this city, will preach at that church to-morrow, the former in in the morning and the latter in the evening, at the usual hours.

FIRE.—The verandah in front of Irving Bros., shoe store on Government street caught fire yesterday afternoon from sparks thrown out by Jumbo. The flames were extinguished by buckets of water and two attenuated streams from a hydrant. The steam engine Deluge, thirteen minutes after the alarm was sounded, had only ten pounds of steam on—a pressure insufficient to move her piston.

MANITOBA'S PREMIER.

Hon. John Norquay at the Driard.

On Thursday night Hon. John Norquay, premier of Manitoba, arrived unexpectedly on the overland train, having left Winnipeg three days before. He describes the railway as one of the best and safest he ever has traveled over. The is indescribably grand. Kicking Horse Pass and the Selkirks present to the traveler the most sublime scenery to be seen in North America, and the time is very near when the Canadian Pacific route will be favorite with tourists. Mr. Norquay thinks the climate of British Columbia, and especially that in and around Victoria, unexcelled. The cool nights after the hot experience on the plains are particularly grateful. Mr. Norquay speaks encouragingly of the prospects of Manitoba, the population of which is more than 100,000, and steadily augmenting. Manitoba does not own the Crown lands; receiving in lieu thereof a government subsidy of $100,000, her total annual subsidy from the Dominion being $450,000. A general election will come off in Manitoba in October, when Mr. Norquay's government will test its popularity.

Laying of the Foundation Stone.

A large number of persons assembled on Broad street yesterday afternoon to witness Lady Macdonald lay the foundation stone of the new Methodist Sunday school, next to the church of that denomination. Over a nicely decorated stage, erected for the accommodation of visitors, was a banner bearing the friendly words, "Welcome! Lady Macdonald."

Soon after 6 o'clock Sir John and Lady Macdonald arrived, and amongst others present were Hon. Mr. Norquay, Hon. Mr. Smithe, Mayor Fell, Hon. J. Robson, and Messrs. E.C. Baker, M.P. and N. Shakespeare, M. P. The Rev. Mr. Percival in a few words opened the proceedings, followed in prayer by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Cridge and a lesson by the Rev. Mr. Laidlow. This concluded, a casket containing copies of local papers, a copy of the Christian Guardian (Toronto), and the Wesleyan (Halifax), a copy of the minutes of the Toronto conference, missionary reports, a list of the clergy stationed in British Columbia, the names of the building committee, names of members of the Ladies Aid Society, actively interested, also of those assisting at the ceremony, and current coins of the Dominion.

A silver trowel was then presented by Mrs. Shakespeare to Lady Macdonald, who went through the usual ceremony of laying the stone. Sir John Macdonald, having been introduced by the Rev. Mr. Percival, thanked those connected with the work, on behalf of his wife for the honor conferred upon her, and through her to him. He said it was a bright augury of his visit that he or his should have been identified with a religious work. He was glad to see that in the progress of religious life the Methodist church kept to the fore, and mentioned that though heretofore science had been the handmaid of religion, it was now being prostituted to the injury of the ancient religion, and urged the necessity of all Christian bodies combating the errors of science for the sake of the faith.

The usual collection having been taken up the party then adjourned to the church where refreshments had been provided.

The C. P. Railway Rates.

Yesterday a representative of The Colonist had a conversation with Mr. Geo. Olds, general traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific railway. Mr. Olds says he will remain here until Monday for the purpose of ascertaining the views of Victoria merchants and coming to a satisfactory arrangement with them in respect of freight. From Victoria he will go to Portland on railway business. Mr. Olds does not anticipate cut rates for Victoria freight on the Northern Pacific and O. R. & N. Co's lines, believing it to be to the interest of those companies to maintain a scale that will be to all concerned. If, however, it should be seen that the American lines are bent on offering Victoria consignees rates that will prove ruinous with the one object of shutting out the Canadian line from trade that is legitimately theirs they will not be allowed to carry out that line of policy unopposed. Mr. Olds, who is enthusiastic in his opinion of the climate, will remain here until Monday. He speaks of the tea shipments over the C. P. railway as demonstrating the practibility of this line for the rapid transportation of freight from the Orient.

BASEBALL.—The last of the series of games between James and Rock Bay clubs took place yesterday at the hill and resulted in the face of a strong opposing team in favor of Jomes Bay by a score of 24 to 22. The game was hotly contested from start to finish, and at the end of the ninth innings a tie occurred, when another innings was played and again resulted in a tie—the eleventh innings proving victorious for James Bay by 3 runs to 1. The battery work of Williams and Jackson for James Bay was very effective and they played the battery throughout the game; Tiedeman's short-stop work was also good. Rock Bay changed their batter three times, and had Borthwick, of the Amities for catcher. Mr. Baker acted as umpire to the satisfaction of all.

ROBBERY.—Mr. Edward Gannaway, residing at the corner of Douglas and Pembroke streets, went home yesterday to find that he had been robbed of his ward robe, jewelry and a revolver. He promptly caused his Chinese cook to be lodged in gaol. He afterwards found a pawn ticket of the stolen property, which had been dropped by the Chinaman, who will be "presented at court" this morning.

GRANITE CREEK.—Mr. Howse, J. P., arrived down from Granite Creek on Thursday evening. He reports work on Granite Creek as progressing well, and producing fair results. The other gold-bearing creeks in the district have not as yet developed anything of a rich character. Mr. Howse brought $7000 in gold dust down with him.

HONOR TO THE CHIEFTAIN!

The Regatta on the Arm a Grand Success.

Brilliant Torchlight Procession at Night---A Sight as Unique as Delightful.

Thursday's regatta was as successful as could have been desired. The day was charming, though those who were obliged to drive to "the Gorge" found the dust almost insufferable. The arrangements for water-carriage were entirely inadequate, though the steamer Lottie carried a large number of passengers on each of her trips. Probably 5000 people were assembled at the Gorge and all along the Arm when

SIR JOHN AND LADY MACDONALD

Lieut.-Governor and Mrs. Cornwall in the arrived with Admiral Sir M. Culme-Seymour and steam launch of H.M.S. Triumph. Three cheers and a "tiger" were given with a will for the premier, in whose honor as well as in that of Lady Macdonald, the regatta was given, and the chieftain gracefully acknowledged the compliment. The scene was a magnificent one. Lines of flags reached from one bank to the other, hundreds of boats of all kinds and descriptions containing of men, women and children floated on the placid surface of the waters, while the banks and bluffs were crowded with a happy laughing crowd. The "tars" turned out en masse, and several parties of these dressed up most grotesquely, added much to the general merriment. Music, too, added its charms. The fine band of the Triumph, under Prof. Agius' leadership, was stationed near the committee's barge; the Victoria band occupied a commanding position on the opposite side near "the Gorge" bridge, while the Queen City band was placed at Curtis' point. These combined rendered the day melodious, and added materially to its pleasure. The following were the

OFFICERS OF THE DAY:

Referee—Commander F. B. Simpson, R N.

Judges—E. Crow Baker, Esq., M. P., Colonel Wolfenden, B. C. G. A., W. McNiffe, Esq., Lieut. J. Gibbings, R. N., Lieut. T. Fisher, R. N., D. W. Higgins, Esq., M. P. P., and R. Lipsett, Esq.

Starter—Mr. R. Brodrick.

Judge Deadman's Island—Mr. F. Paine.

Course Clearer—Mr. J. Jackson.

Treasurer—Mr. Thos. Russell.

The first race started punctually at 1 o'clock p. m., the signal being the firing of a gun.

THE PROGRAMME.

The first race was a naval race for 12-oared cutters, marines, stokers and mechanics; 1st prize $40, 2nd $15. There were three entries, the cutter "Magic," cutter "Star," and barge "Sweet Violets." The race was won by "Sweet Violets" by a lead of three lengths, "Magic" second.

Naval skiff race, prize $10—four entries. Won by "Bullseye," which was 100 yards in advance of the "Smut," the latter leading the "Ballyhoo," while the "Demon of the Pacific" was last.

Four-oared gigs, three entries. The crews were made up as follows: Victorians—L. Crease, stroke; B. Drake, three; C. Hayward, two; and H. E. Jones, bow. Ward room crew—Grafton, stroke; Lepine, three; Morris, two; and Fisher, bow. Gun room crew—Reeves, stroke; Petch, three; Scriven, two; Jeffreys, bow. This was one of the most interesting races of the day, rendered so by the fact that it was a tussle for the supremacy between our own boys and the navy. The Victoria crew led by five lengths, the ward room officers second, and the gun room officers third. The success of the Victoria crew was largely due to the untiring and masterly "coaching" of the Rev. Mr. Beanlands.

No. 4. Single sculls, outrigger shells, did not come off, W. Paine and W. Cotsford being the only entries, and the former announcing that he had never given authority for the entry of his name.

Indian canoe race, 12 paddles, prize $25; two entries; was won by the "Songish" Indians.

Naval race, six-oared gigs and galleys; first prize, $30, second $10; four entries; "Unknown" won, "Silver King" second, "Comet" third, and "Colleen Bawn" fourth.

Double sculls, outrigged skiffs, prize $20; two entries, viz, "Brunette," R Law and W. Law, and "Kestrel," J. V. Mullington and F. S. Wittowson. The "Brunette" won by four lengths.

Dingy race, short course; open to all comers; first prize $15, second $5; two entries; M. Law and C. Lelievre. The former won by two lengths.

Indian canoe race, 12 paddles, prize $25: two entries; both "Songish" Indians. They were "dubbed" respectively the "Clean Shirts" and "Dirty Shirts," though those of neither of the crew were as white as the "beautiful snow." The "Dirty Shirts" succeeded in winning the race with ease.

Naval race, 12 oared cutters, blue-jackets, 1st prize; $40; 2nd, $15; three entries. Won by the cutter "Star," barge "Sweet Violets" second, cutter "Magic" third.

Single sculls, outrigged skiffs, 1st prize $20, 2nd $7.50. Entries—C. Bush, J. Bittancourt and A. Almanzia. The latter led, and as Bittancourt badly fouled Bush, got a good lead. Bush at last cleared himself and had no difficulty in overhauling Almanzia. Bittencourt, too, passed him, and the result was a walkover for Bush, Bittancourt second and Almanzia far in the rear, a bad third. The time was stated at 18:16.

As there were no entries for No. 13 of the programme, an all-comers race, any boats excepting outriggers and sliding seats, it was declared off, and the Klootchman canoe race, prize $15, was called on. The fair maids who reside at the reservation bent to the paddle with a will and afforded much amusement by their efforts to win the prize. The successful crew, the "whites" were apparently as elated, as the losers, the "blues," were depressed, at the result of the race.

The following additional exercises were had during the interval of the races:

Swimming race, about 200 yards; 1st prize $10, second $5. There were twenty-two starters. Mr. W. Charles 1st, J. Hannah 2nd.

Water cavalry, 1st prize $5, 2nd $3. This was one of the most amusing races of the day, and afforded infinite sport to the onlookers. Of all who tried to mount the restive steeds very few succeeded. Martin, alias "Pincher," in his polymorphian rig was the object or much fun, and succeeded in winning 2nd prize, Dugue taking first. None of those who started returned home, but we believe this is the usual fate of those who take part in such cavalry tactics.

Greasy pole (walking). Prize $5 and a leg of mutton. The usual "pig" was a minus quantity. Some thirty contestants entered and attempted to reach the flag at the end, but as soon as the grease was reached each attempted a gyrating movement which landed him sooner or later in the water below. Endless fun was created as each endeavored to reach the goal of his ambition, but it fell to the lot of Mr. H. Louch to capture the flag and prize.

THE TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION.

The 8 o'clock gun was the signal to flood the Gorge with the light of innumerable Chinese lanterns and torches. At 8:50 o'clock the tug Saturna took all the boats it tow and moved slowly down the Arm. From Point Ellice bridge, where 1000 people had gathered, a fine view of the approaching flotilla was had. At that point hundreds of torches were blazing, making the darkness light, and the many-colored lights rose gracefully and picturesquely into the air. As the boats rounded the point coming into the view of the sight seers on the bridge, the scene was one that only an artist's pencil could do justice to. Out of the darkness came the grand pageant, moving along slowly, resembling a ship burning at sea or a mountain flickering with the myriad lights of a host of fire-flies. One was reminded of Moore's lines when describing the Feast of Roses in his inimitable "Lalla Rookh":

"A thousand restless torches play'd
Through every grove and its sad shade;
A thousand sparkling lamps were set
On every dome and minaret;
And fields and pathways, far and near,
Were lighted by a blaze so clear,
That you could see in wandering round,
The smallest rose-leaf on the ground."

AS THE PROCESSION

moved down stream the sound of voices in dulcet strains was heard, and "God Save the Queen" from a thousand throats was echoed from shore to shore as the flotilla passed under the bridge. Here the boats separated and moved separately to all points of the compass, looking as much as anything like fire-flies skimming over the surface of the waves. The farther shore was

and many thought the view thus presented the most magnificent of the evening. Mr. Charles Gabriel, of the Japanese bazaar, was easily first in the illumination of his boat though one vied with the other in making the affair a success. The procession was unique in the history of Victoria, and the wonder is that it was not thought of long ago; it is certain that a day's pleasure could not be rounded off in a more successful or artistic manner. The committee in charge of the torchlight procession comprised Messrs. J. H. Turner, M. P. P., A. J. Smith and Lieut. T. Fisher, R. N., and much credit is due them for the successful manner in which their duties were carried out. Indeed a meed of praise is due the various committees, the executive, that on races, the band committee, and the transportation superintendent. Mr. H. E. Croasdaile, for the able manner in which all the details were executed. These were little short of perfect, the only regret being that the would persist in getting in the way of the racing boats, and occasionally of causing a dead-lock. This defect will, however, be remedied on future occasions of the kind.

The day passed off quietly; but few rows occurred, and everybody seemed happy. The day's outing was made the occasion of a "truly rural" celebration the part of many which was excused on the plea that the regatta, like Christmas, only comes once a year. Sir John and Lady Macdonald will, we are sure, carry away with them many pleasant recollections of Victoria and its surroundings, but none will linger longer in their memory, we believe, than the re, at a day on the Arm.

Citizens' Ball.

The new Assembly rooms, on Fort street, were thrown open for the first time last evening for a citizens ball in honor of Sir John and Lady Macdonald. The spacious ballroom—100x52 feet—was handsomely decorated with national flowers and evergreens. About 250 couples occupied the floor until an early hour this morning. Among the guests were Sir John and Lady Macdonald, the Lieut.-Governor and Mrs. Cornwall, Rear-Admiral Sir Michael Culme-Seymour and officers of H. M. ships, Lord Durham, Sir Richard Musgrave, Premier Smithe, Senators Macdonald and Nelson, and Mayor Fell. In the opening quadrille Lady Macdonald danced with the lieutenant-governor, Senator Macdonald with Mrs. Cornwall, Senator Nelson with Mrs. Gray, and Mr Justice Walkem with Mrs. Nelson. The Triumph's band, under the leadership of Prof. Agius, supplied the music. A bountiful supper was served at midnight in the commodious dining room attached to the hall. The guests enjoyed themselves thoroughly and, indeed, the ball was one of the pleasantest ever given in the province.

A Prominent Baptist Visitor.

Rev. Henry L. Morehouse, D. D., who for some years has been the corresponding secretary of the American Baptist Home Mission Society, is expected to arrive by the Sound steamer this afternoon, en route to Alaska. This untiring and talented worker is making a personal inspection of some of the principal missions of the society from Duluth to Puget Sound, thence to British Columbia and Alaska, returning home via San Francisco, Utah and Colorado. This society whose motto is "North America for Christ," is doing an immense work, employing nearly seven hundred missionaries among eight different nationalities; sustaining seventeen educational institutions, and erecting a large number of church edifices. The name of Secretary Morehouse is almost a household word among American Baptists as the mainspring and inspiration of their missionary enterprises. Chiefly through his indomitable energy there was raised last spring $125,000 in eighty days—a fact without precedent in their history. It is expected that Dr. M. will remain over Sunday and preach in the Baptist church at one or both of the services.

THE PREMIER.—Sir John and Lady Macdonald will leave this city for Nanaimo on Wednesday, the party being the first through passengers over the Island railway which will be completed on that date. The coal fields will be visited as well as other points of interest, when the party will cross over to New Westminster and spend a few days in the royal city.

RUNAWAY.—About 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning a team belonging to Mr. Beak, the butcher, ran away from his store and headed for the Victoria brewery, where it was captured, no damage being sustained.

THE WIRES.—We are without our usual dispatches this morning owing to the wires being down, caused by a heavy bush fire.

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR

Present an Address to Sir John Macdonald.

A deputation of the Knights of Labor waited upon Sir John Macdonald at the Driard yesterday to present him with an address of the organization upon questions intimately affecting their interests. In substance, the address referred to the completion of the Canadian Pacific railway, congratulating the premier upon his political connection with the work, but dwelt with especial earnestness on the subject of Chinese labor in this province, representing that the thousands of coolies yet in the province, after the cessation of Canadian Pacific railway construction, prevented the white laboring man from competing with them on terms of equality, it being impossible for whites to adapt themselves to similar habits and mode of living. That the local government had passed several acts calculated to remedy the Chinese evil, but such legislation had been disallowed by the Dominion, improperly, they thought, being of opinion that the province being most concerned, action in this regard should be left in its hands as provided by the Act of Union. The opinion was also expressed that the Restriction act was not properly enforced, and the hope was ventured that in the event of public expenditure upon government works at Esquimalt there would be no employment of Chinese, for the reasons the works, if erected, will in time of war require to be manned by the yeomen of Britain, Canada, and the other colonies, as it was well known that for such purposes Chinese were utterly worthless; and that it was the duty of the government, as a matter of public policy to encourage the settlement of the province by those of their own kindred who will make it their permanent home. The committee also represented the evils of the Chinese presence and suggested that the premier allow himself to be escorted by them through Chinatown that he might have an opportunity of judging for himself of the value of Chinese coolies as immigrants. Other subjects touched upon were the necessity of public works being owned by the people and the objectionable monetary system of the Dominion government, the Knights being convinced that the present system of currency was a tax upon the people by the discount charged upon bills, and that private corporations rather than the government received the benefits therefrom. The address closed with the best wishes for the health and safe return of Sir John and Lady Macdonald.

The premier in reply after thanking the deputation for their welcome and reference to himself and wife, hoped that the committee would still further enlighten him in reference to any lack of enforcement of the Chinese restriction act. The act was practically an imperial question and must be treated as such. The suggestion that all public works should be owned by the people he promised should receive his best consideration; but the banking system of the country was, he said, far too powerful for any government to cope with, and that any reference with legislative enactments in this regard might prove dangerous.

The deputation having expressed their thanks, withdrew.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

The Chief Justice Decides Adversely to the C. P. R. Company.

In the case of Messrs. H. V. Edmonds, John Johnson, Wm. A. Duncan, Hector M. Stramberg, James A. Clark, Donald Chisholm, Joseph C. Armstrong, and Thos. L. Briggs versus the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, Chief Justice Sir M. B. Begbie gave judgment yesterday. The plaintiffs sought to restrain the defendants from extending the main line of the C. P. R. from Port Moody to Coal Harbor and English Bay. The judgment grants the injunction sought for by the plaintiffs, who are large property owners at Port Moody, on the ground that the Canadian Pacific Railway Co.'s charter grants power to construct a railway to Port Moody only, this point being therein described as the Pacific terminus of the railroad. The injunction only effects the property of the plaintiffs. Appeal will be taken to the divisional court, consisting of two or more judges of the supreme court, other than the judge from whose decision the appeal is taken. This decision is final, unless the case is taken before the supreme court of Canada. This decision is directly opposed to that of Judge Gray and the result will be the deferring of the completion of the line to Vancouver. Messrs. Davie & Pooley for the plaintiffs and Messrs. Drake, Helmcken & Jackson for defendants.

Marine.

Ship J. S. Spinney sailed from the roads for Port Townsend yesterday.

Barque Norway left yesterday for the Sound in tow of the tug Blakeley.

Steamer Alexander was due down from the Inlet at midnight yesterday with the barque Harvest Home and was to leave again with the ship Commodore for Departure bay.

A spar buoy is at present moored at Brotchie's ledge in place of the bell buoy.

Steamer Alki as sighted from a mainland steamer yesterday was lying in the same position on Bell Chain Reef, very low in the water.

POLICE COURT.—Hart & Isaacs, charged with an infraction of the consolidated sidewalk and awning bylaw, pleaded guilty and on payment of $2, cost of summons, the case was withdrawn.... Kurtexterger and Lentsberger were similarly dealt with.... Christopher Webb was charged with shooting Benjamin Turner with intent to kill at a house on Chatham street, on the 4th inst. Officer Walker's testimony was to the effect that on last Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock he, in company with Officer Lindsay, went to the house in question; the prisoner, coming out, said he was after a man and would shoot him down like a dog; prisoner had a mark on his forehead as if he had been in a struggle; his coat and white shirt were spotted with blood; Turner was in the house at the time. Turner showed a hole in his hat which prisoner had made with a bullet fired from a revolver; when Turner was brought to the gaol I saw the wounds on his head. Supt. Bloomfield made an application for an adjournment until this morning, which was granted.

What Some People Say.

That the gentleman who was observed so daringly shinning up to the mast head of a pleasure yacht in the harbor yesterday afternoon was not the one who distinguished himself by climbing the greasy pole at the Gorge last Thursday evening.

That two sailors who yesterday hired a sail boat for a couple of hours had not returned at the end of thrice that period of time. It is feared that the wind, though somewhat adverse, has blown them over to one of the ports on the Sound.

That the latest on dit is that Sir John Macdonald is so charmed with the climate and people of Victoria that he is strongly inclined to appoint himself lieutenant-governor and reside here permanently.

That the music and recitations at the Tea on Tuesday next will be equal to anything of the kind yet given in the city. *

That a well-known American gentleman who was among the arrivals by the steamer Geo. E. Starr yesterday was overheard to remark to a customs officer on the wharf yesterday afternoon: "You are far more courteous to American travellers than our customs officials are to your countrymen." He has travelled, and knows whereof he speaks.

That in this city, not long ago, a bank director asked the cashier: "Is Mr.—— good?" "That depends whether you enquired in a Godward or manward sense," replied the cashier. "I mean manward, of course," said the director. "In a Godward sense," remarked the cashier, "Mr.—— is very good. A No. 1. No man in the church can pray louder. But in a manward sense I am sorry to say that he is tricky." It is sufficient to say that the note of Mr.—— was not discounted.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

That "I remember well," said Bagley in a reminiscent way, "the old gate where we did most of our courting. The dear, dear gate." "So it was," said Mrs. Bagley, musingly. "I know dear papa said it cost him $30 to have the hinges and other parts repaired that summer."

That there is not the slightest need of sending to Europe, (or anywhere else), for Blue Mottled Soap, as Pendray & Co.'s is the best and cheapest all the time. *

That Uncle Sam is "gettin' a big boy now," and has authorized the expenditure of $6,000,000 in heavy guns for the army and navy. It was about time to do something, as it was stated that the present American fleet had to put to sea during the 4th of July celebrations for fear of being blown out of the water by a stray fire-cracker.

The "Sproule" Case.

Yesterday a motion was made to His Lordship Mr. Justice Henry at Ottawa by counsel on behalf of Sproule, that the prisoner's attendance at Ottawa under the writ of habeas corpus might be dispensed with, and an order for his discharge made without further proceedings. His Lordship granted the application, and ordered that the prisoner be forthwith discharged out of custody. It remains to be seen what action will be taken in face of this per-emptory order of the court which having been mailed from Ottawa to-day will arrive here in about a week.

THROUGH THE ROCKIES.

DESCRIPTION OF MOUNTAIN SCENERY BY A TRAVELLER.

The Montreal Gazette publishes the following extracts from private letters written by Mr. James F. D. Black, the Montreal city treasurer, describing his railroad trip through the Rockies:

"At Hector, where we were detained, I got a glimpse of the highest peak of the Rockies, covered with snow, which shone in the early morning sun, through the smoky atmosphere and appeared like fleecy clouds. I could hardly be convinced that it was other than a cloud, but the former remained unchanged, thus showing that it was the mountain in its towering grandeur. On the other side of the burnt bridge we took the train again and

or highest point of the road. The descent was very rapid passing alongside of the Kicking Horse river, which went roaring down the canons, at places rushing 150 feet below. Field is down at the foot of the hills; the river here broadens into a wide basin and is comparatively quiet, the water the color of clay. Since leaving Field the train runs in the valley of the Otter Tail; on both sides, the mountains rise precipitously and many places are snowclad. I again say that it is grand. We are now rising, the river is far below us and we will continue to mount the hills to overcome the Selkirk range. I must conclude so as not to m's the mail, and I cannot refrain, however, from referring to the scene we are now passing. Below is the river--the Otter Tail--winding rapidly between the steep clay banks. The color of the water looked at from a distance gives the impression that it is frozen, but that it never is, I think, for it rushes with the rapidity of Niagara below the falls. I hope to reach New Westminster by to-morrow evening, and shall be glad of the rest and quiet." Another letter is dated from North Bend, Fraser river, above Yale, B. C., July the 16th, 1886: "Yesterday our train was much delayed, and the atmosphere was smoky to such a degree that one could not do much of anything. We have continued to snow-covered mountain peaks were continually in sight; the river banks were precipitous to a degree I never before saw. All afternoon and during the night we passed the burning woods --the fire extending to the track at one place. We were delayed four hours by the burning of a lot of square timber alongside of the rails. The heat was so great they could not near the burning woods. So they had to wait and let it burn out. During the night I saw a magnificent sight in the burning woods. Great trees over 100 feet high, burning from root to summit, one great pillar of fire. We are now running the banks of the Fraser on the edge of the river, and the stream racing like the current of Niagara, seething and foaming, indicating so great a force, that no boat but a powerful steamer could stem it. The banks rise several hundred feet high, and our train is running on a track cut out of the mountain cliff, just like one step n a staircase--if you can imagine the stairbuilder commencing his work by hewing out the centre step. We follow the banks of the river. You may be sure the road winds about in a wonderful way, at one time the sun shines on one side, then again on the other, the train occasionally passing through tunnels cut in the mountain's side. I hope to be in Westminster this evening. Our train is ten hours late. Taking it all in all my trip has been most enjoyable. The scenery far exceeded my expectations; it was one surprise after another that is experienced in going through this sea of mountains.

I have just dined and fared most sumptuously, salmon caught this morning, good mutton, nice dessert, with white cherries of excellent quality, this, with a capital cup of iced tea, enables me to say that anyone who desires for better fare is hard to satisfy."

Why Mr. Tod Scorned the Double d.

One of Lincoln's most esteemed friends was old ex Governor Tod, of Ohio. He was a quaint old character, and Lincoln loved him for his honesty, ability and native shrewdness. One evening when Tod was in town Lincoln invited him over to the White House. They had a long chat together, when Lincoln finally said: "Look here, Tod, how is it that you spell your name with only one d? I married a Todd, but she spelled her name with two ds. All of her relatives do the same. You are the first Tod I ever met who spelled his name with so few letters." Old Tod looked at Lincoln for a moment in his peculiarly quizzing manner and then replied: "Mr. President, God spells his name with only one d, and what is good enough for God is good enough for me." Lincoln used to repeat this story to some of his more intimate friends, and every time he did so he would laugh until the tears ran down over that furrowed but grand face.--Boston Traveller.
